Celebrating 35 Years of Everbright Securities International in Macao with New Office Opening to Strengthen Wealth Management Services

Fintech Competition Fosters Industry–University Collaboration to Nurture AI Talent for the Financial Sector

Macao, November 4, 2026 – China Everbright Securities International Company Limited ("Everbright Securities International", "EBSI" or the "Company") celebrates 35 years in Macao today with a celebration ceremony at Macau Tower, alongside a fintech forum and the launch of the Macao Fintech Analytics Competition. The Company also proudly holds its member company Everbright Securities Investment Services (HK) Limited – Macau Branch ("Macau Branch") official opening ceremony for the branch's new office this afternoon. Under the theme "Advancing Fintech in the Greater Bay Area, Empowering Macao's Economic Diversification", the celebration ceremony brings together representatives from government, business and academia. Through industry dialogue, talent development and expanded services, the Company aims to support the continued development of Macao's financial sector.

for 35 years celebration ceremony and FinTech Forum, as well as the launch ceremony for the “Macao FinTech Analytics Competition”.

Angus Lau, Director, Head of Wealth Management at EBSI, said: “Over the 35 years since EBSI expanded into Macao in 1991, the Company has progressively broadened its local service offering. Today, its Macau Branch provides not only securities trading but also a comprehensive range of wealth management solutions. Our commitment goes beyond service enhancement. We also invest in the next generation of financial professionals through university scholarships, local internships and, now, a fintech competition that gives students hands-on experience. Through the forum and competition, we aim to connect industry expertise and academic research with fresh ideas from young talent. Together, we can explore new possibilities for financial services and better support Macao’s appropriate economic diversification.”

Fintech Forum Explores AI, Green Finance and the Skills Shaping Financial Services

Fintech dialogue is a key part of the anniversary celebration. The forum has brought together approximately 100 participants, including representatives from government, business and education, as well as members of the audience, for discussions on ESG and green finance, artificial intelligence (AI) and blockchain. Participants explore the opportunities at these developments present for financial services, along with the evolving knowledge and skills required for future finance professionals.

Launched at the event, the Macao Fintech Analytics Competition is jointly organized by EBSI and the Macao Financial Technology and Education Development Association (MFTEDA). Open to students at Macao’s higher education institutions, the competition features two tracks: “Intelligent Investment Research Assistant” and “Financial News Sentiment Analysis Prototype.” The competition centers on three principles: trustworthiness, traceability and practical application. Entries must include mechanisms for tracing data sources and checking facts. Students are encouraged to explore AI applications while prioritizing verification, data accuracy and awareness of compliance risks. Winning teams may also have the opportunity to join the Company’s 2027 internship program and put their ideas into practice.

New Macao Office Reinforces Long-Term Commitment to the Local Market

Macau Branch also hold an opening ceremony this afternoon at their new premises: Unit E, 16/ F, ICBC Tower, No. 810 Avenida Panorâmica do Lago Nam Van, Macao. Clients and business partners join them to mark this new chapter for the Branch.

Macau Branch steadily expanded its products and services, evolving from stock trading into broader wealth management. The new office offers additional meeting space and greater client privacy to serve the diverse investment, asset allocation and wealth planning needs of individual and institutional clients.

Alongside its business development, the Company remains committed to nurturing local talent. Since 2009, finance scholarships were established at the University of Macau and the Macau University of Science and Technology in Macao to cultivate local youth talent.

Looking ahead, EBSI will combine its wealth management experience in Hong Kong and other international markets with its understanding of Macao clients' needs. With the strong backing of China Everbright Group and Everbright Securities, the Company will continue to enhance its products and services, advance service innovation and develop local talent as it grows alongside Macao.
